

Natia Kalandia

Copywriter

 n.kalandia95@gmail.com

My work as a copywriter is built on a deep love for language, rooted in my bachelor's degree in Georgian Philology. I enjoy exploring the nuances of comparative translation, philosophy, and linguistics, and I bring this analytical and creative perspective to my work. I have experience in fast-paced agency settings where I combine my research skills and design sense to create clear and effective content.
